STRIKING DETACHED RAGSTONE FAMILY HOME

Sitting in approximately an acre, in the village of Chart Sutton and dating back to 1865, this striking detached, ragstone family home occupies an elevated position with far-reaching views across the Weald of Kent. The first time the property has ever been on the market this property has exposed ragstone walls and a stunning, vaulted Old School Hall.

The accommodation consists of an entrance hall, double aspect sitting room with brick fireplace, family room with brick fireplace, dining room with flagstone floor and exposed ragstone wall, triple aspect kitchen/breakfast room with red tile floor and door to the front garden, a utility room, boot room with door to outside and a cloakroom on the ground floor. From the boot room and utility room there is access into the old school hall which is divided by sliding doors. With its vaulted ceiling, wooden floor and exposed wooden roof trusses, this room is ideal for refurbishment to create a spectacular entertaining space, art, or music studio, or even guest accommodation or annex.

On the first floor there is a principal bedroom with exposed ragstone and ensuite shower room, a double aspect guest bedroom with ensuite shower room, three further bedrooms and a family bathroom. A staircase leads to a spacious attic which could easily be made into further living accommodation.

OUTSIDE

Outside the property sits in approximately an acre of grounds, including a large lawn bordered by mature trees and shrubs and an extensive driveway which allows for ample parking. The property has a charming old school playground which could be turned into a tennis court or used to create outside entertaining space to enjoy the views across the Weald. There are also several outbuildings which could be converted subject to the necessary planning permissions.
